epilepsy compared similarly to their unaffected siblings and the general population as well as individuals with epilepsy. This would mean that insulin levels would fall.